

Ben Zoufan
West (Americas & Europe) Sales Manager
DuPont Photovoltaic Solutions

Ben is the Regional Sales Manager responsible for sales and growth of Tedlar®, Solamet® and Fortasun™ products in Americas and Europe for DuPont Photovoltaic Solutions. He began his career at DuPont in 2003 and has held key roles in engineering and manufacturing, marketing and business consulting, finance and working capital management as well as demand and supply chain management. Prior to his current role, he held various sales and business development roles and he also served as the global demand manager for DuPont Photovoltaics Solutions.

Ben received a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Engineering from University of Delaware and a Master of Business Administration from Goldey Beacom College with a concentration in Finance.